

A Message from MedPro Associates:

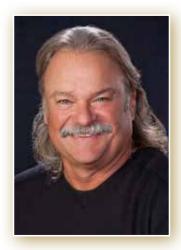

To Our Distributor and Manufacturer Partners,

The past several weeks have certainly tested us all. As we continue to monitor ongoing developments related to the coronavirus (COVID-19), please know that MedPro will not compromise our commitment to you and the customers we collectively serve. We will always be here when you need us most, and you can count on us to continue providing the same high level of service you have come to expect.

As COVID-19 continues to impact our customers and supply chain needs, we are committed to doing what is best for our customers, our reps and the public. We have been closely monitoring the situation and making changes along the way. Based on customer requests and CDC recommendations, we have implemented social distancing sales protocols, but continue to actively communicate via phone, webinar and Zoom technology, both with our distribution channel and healthcare providers to support your customers for product in-services, demos, and other needs. Furthermore, we have heightened our sales and product training to stay sharp and be prepared to be stronger than ever when the crisis is under control, while keeping active and prospective sales moving forward. We take our responsibility very seriously and will continue to do our part as representatives of our distributor and manufacturer partners, as well as the customers we serve.

MedPro has not taken a pass during this healthcare fight against COVID 19. We are operational and available. Please do not hesitate to reach out to our management team and your local reps. There can never be enough communication during this time when our customers need us most.

As always, we appreciate our business partnership and your confidence in MedPro.

Sincerely,
Bill Sparks, CEO
Manny Losada, President
& our entire Executive Management Team
